Dear Mr & Mrs Weisberg,

Brett and I wanted to write and wish you a Merry X Mas. We feel bad that we haven't written sooner to thank you for your hospitality. Sometimes in this day and age we get to busy with work and day to day living we don't take the time to acknowledge our friends the way we should. We can't thank you enough for letting us impose upon your valuable time. The time you gave me and my son made him a much more knowledgable individual and he will never give up the fight to learn the truth about the things hidden from us by our govt. I know the time spent with you will stay with us for the rest of our lives.

I hope you received the bird food before the snow hit. It was to have been delivered shortly after we had visited but I discovered it had never been added and got looking and the order had been lost.

If there is ever anything we can do to help with your research, etc. please feel free to let us know. It never could be enough to repay your kindness.

Sincerely
Kurt & Brett
